The end of the world is coming!

There are going to be terrible storms,
earthquakes, and floods.
There are going to be wars,
wherein which many will die.

There will be a break down in the fundamentals of society.
The old system of morals will be tossed out.

Lying and cheating will run rampant.
Crime in the streets will be out of control.
Annual tolls of robberies, rapes, and murder
will be in the thousands.

There will be widespread corruption in government.
People will not longer respect their leaders.

There will be one economic crises after another.
There will be major social rifts pitting entire segments of populations against each other.
Things will be getting worse, and not better.

All these things will be occurring on December 21, 2012!

Then again, they all seem to be occurring
before then too.
My guess is that they will continue to occur
even after this date.

So then,
what is the significance of Dec. 21. 2012?
What is going to happen on this date?

I don't know if anything significant
is going to happen on Dec. 21.
The sun will rise in the morning
and it will set in the evening.
We will wake up that morning,
and most of us will return to bed that night.

As for the end of the world,
I am sure that it is coming closer every day,
but, I will take a good guess and predict
that it won't be here over the next few days.
So, I guess we may just have to wait a little while longer for the apocalypse.

As for all the things above,
instead of interpreting them as ominous signs
about the end of the world,
maybe, instead, we should look at them
as very serious problems
that are occurring in humanity itself.

Maybe if we address our human issues,
nature itself can be pacified,
and our Father in Heaven will then bless us
all with renewed peace.
Wouldn't that be a grand "end of the world"?

Instead of everything blowing up, everything
could instead just calm down.
Instead of everyone dying in terror,
we could all live together in peace.

As for me, if the world has to come to an end,
this is my vote as for how it should come
about.

Apocalypses are such messy things.
Who wants to clean it all up, once its over?

And, just in case that I am wrong,
and the world does come to an end
on Dec. 21, it's been nice knowing you!

But, if we do continue after Dec. 21,
maybe we should take the time,
and make the effort,
to get to know each other a little better.

After all, this can never hurt,
and who knows, it might actually be of help!
Stay in touch.
