

Copyright © 2011 by Ariel Bar Tzadok.

All rights reserved.

This material may be transmitted electronically,

or otherwise copied in any format.

This material is the intellectual property

of Ariel Bar Tzadok and all copies of it

are subject to financial compensation

to the author. The author's rights

Question: What do you do when the whole world is going to hell in a hand-basket?

Answer: Go to another world!

Many people contact me regularly asking me what they can do to prepare for the hard times to come. People from all walks of life are starting to realize that the world we live in is becoming more and more unstable. Everything that we cherish and rely upon is being eroded out from under us. Things are getting worse and there seems to be no silver-lining in the storm clouds gathering over head.

Many in their desperation are turning towards fantastical religion, clinging almost irrationally to the belief that somehow, in some way, Heaven is going to magically intervene and prevent the collapse of everything we hold dear and save us from the evils that seem to be enveloping the world.

It is amazing how the fantastical religious never seem to learn. They never seem to be able to differentiate between their fantasies and the harsh realities that embrace us all. The fantastical religious usually end up dying in droves because they can never let go of their illusions and false faith. They cling to their false faith and as their faith crumbles, so too do their lives. The entire history of the Nation of Israel is full of examples of such.

What is about to come about in the world is going to be catastrophic. There will be no miracles to prevent this. All the prayers in the world will not postpone it. Judgment is not just Divine, it is natural. Life on Earth must evolve and the way things are now just must come to an end. Life will go on, true, but the new-born world to come will be radically different from how things are now. We are on the verge of the dawn of a new-age. Yet, before the new comes, the old must first be washed away. And washed away it will be.

There are those who are frightened by an apocalyptic message. There are those who wish to radically deny it. The fantastical religious are usually the first ones to do this. Yet, what they are doing is not expressing actual faith in God's mercy but they are actually and actively denying God's justice and the Divine plan. This is why they usually collapse along with the collapsing society they embrace.

Copyright © 2011 by Ariel Bar Tzadok.

Copyright © 2011

The coming collapse will be a major challenge to every human being. Many will not be able to face it, many will not be able to survive it. Yet, there will be many more who will be able to survive. There will be many others who will be able to make the transition from the old world to the new one. Yet, survival and transition will not succeed by the barrel of a gun. Those who survive will not necessarily be the survivalists who are even now preparing for the inevitable collapse of civilization.

The only way to secure survival through the narrow path to come is to properly walk and navigate this narrow path. And this will cannot be done and will not be done all the while that one is carrying a very heavy burden, of one kind or another. Clinging on to the past will only make one fall and be lost with that past. This is as true of the religious and it is with the secular.

Those who cling on to religious fantasy and mythology will quickly find out that their religious myths are false and will certainly not save them. The Bible is very, very clear on one point and that is that there is no magic. While miracles can and do occur, the Sages of old, who were wise and knew how to survive, boldly proclaimed that it is not the way of faith to rely upon miracles.

Those with true faith in God do not wait for God to act, instead they act first and create the circumstance for which God to bless. This alone is the definition of righteous behavior. Those who sit, pray, cry out and wait for Heaven to act are practicing false faith. They are in violation of the words of the Sages and in truth are contradicting everything holy, proper and true. The worst insult is that they practice their false faith all the while believing it to be true, to the point of dying for it.

Well, it is not for me to tell another how to live or how to die. All can chose what they wish. All that I can offer is direction along the path that leads across the narrow passage to the other side of survival. In order to accomplish this, we must talk about spiritual survivalism, the ultimate form and practice of prepping for the end-times.

First, no one knows when the sequence of events that will usher in the great change will begin. No one can say what event will occur or when it will occur. I will tell you this, events are coming that will be a combination of natural and human events. Natural disasters are coming that will disrupt the world economy and body politic. When this occurs, all hell will break lose. Even the powers behind the new-world order will be thrown into a tumult, because not even they, with all their preparations, will be able to handle that which Heaven will unleash upon the Earth and its surrounding environs.

There will be no one physical safe haven, not even the Holy Land will escape Divine Justice. Those who think it will are part of the delusional religious fanatics who are destined to be purged before the true new-age dawns. So, instead of looking for the magic place to go, recognize and realize that the true haven of safety and security will be a constantly moving and flowing physical location. Those who can move with the flow will stay in safety. Those who cannot move with the flow, at the proper speed and in the proper way will be overcome and lost. This is the ordinance of Heaven. It will not be changed.

People, us, it is we who must change in order to survive. And change we will. The collapse of the old comes to extract us from the dead and to bring us back to the living. We cast off the old ways like a worn-out garment and cling to the new ways like cloaking a new robe. Yes, we must change and as we do, we shall survive. The way we survive is to recognize that our entire old world is going to hell in a hand-basket and that we must move into an entirely new world.

Now, we cannot physically travel to a new world. I am not talking about taking a space-ship to outer space or a flying saucer to inner earth. Both of these will also be facing their own upheavals. We must learn how to phase into a parallel dimension, one very much like our present world, but slightly different. This is not a fantasy, nor is it science fiction or occultic. Parallel realities are accessed through focus and power of the mind. Yes, we can actually shift dimensions and slide into another by power of mind alone. The Sages of old did this regularly and traveled through "worms holes" of sorts, shortening their way from going from point A to point B in this world. They called this warping of space. Kefitzat HaDerekh, shortening the way.

How this is done is not a lost art. It is a tool that can be acquired by anyone. Yet, in order to use this tool, like with any other tool, one must first cultivate expertise in its use.

The human mind is humanities most powerful tool. The secret why God is planning to send the apocalypse and the great tribulation (hevlei mashiah) is not primarily to punish humanity, but rather to bless us. For far too long now, collective humanity has suffered from the results of what the Bible calls the eating of the forbidden fruit from the Tree of Knowledge, Good and Evil. The psychological effect of this Biblical sin was the division of the human mind into two realms, which we refer to today as the conscious and the unconscious.

As we know the conscious mind deals with this physical world and is dominated by rational intellectual thought. The unconscious mind, however, deals with another dimension of being. We call that domain the spiritual, but the word spiritual does little to describe the actual nature of this parallel and all too real dimension. This parallel realm is present. It is here, now. It surrounds us at this very moment and we move through it as we move through our physical domain. We are however consciously oblivious of this other realm. From time to time we may sense it, but for the most part it is ignored. Our awareness of it is pushed out of consciousness and therefore our awareness of it and interaction with it is ruled by the unconscious part of our minds.

We are so overwhelmingly attracted to the physical domain that the other half of reality is not only ignored, it is forgotten. Essentially, we human beings live as half-brained individuals only experiencing half of the reality surrounding us. Well, God in His mercy is desirous to assist us out of our half-brained mental handicap. He is going to orchestrate the course of human events to force us to detach from our overwhelming attachment to the sensations of the physical world. He is going to remove the ropes that bind us and the chains that keep our senses imprisoned.

God is going to force us back to live a natural life style, away from the man-made creations of civilization and urbanization that have ripped us away from our natural state and forced us to live like animals. As civilization collapses, we will not have any recourse to any man-made resource for sustenance and security. We will be forced to put rationality aside and learn to live again by intuition, just as Adam did before the Fall in Eden.

Copyright © 2011 by Ariel Bar Tzadok.

Copyright © 2011

So, when the hard times come crashing down on our heads, we should not fear or complain. Rather we should give thanks to Heaven, let go and let God!

When we surrender to the Higher Hand and allow It to lead us, daily and at every moment, we will see our lives unfold and continue like the intricate movements of a ballet. Everything will fall into place, in the right time and in the right way. All will be guided by Heaven and all we have to do is allow our unconscious parts to again become integrated with our consciousness. When we become full brained again, we will begin to see both metaphorically and literally an entirely new world open up around us.

When we begin to see the new world actually and literally, not just as a shift of philosophy or psychology but as an actual shift into a parallel dimension, we will be able to leave our world of hell behind, as we enter back into the ancient Garden, on our path towards Eden.

I confess that I am intentionally concealing many things here and now. I am hinting to many things that I am not revealing outright. This too is for a reason and a purpose.

I have long encouraged my readers to learn from my online courses in meditation. I have different levels of instructions for peoples of all walks of life. I cannot emphasize how important this instruction is.

Learn to shift your focus and you will learn to shift your world, not symbolically but actually. Practice makes perfect and the time for practice is now, while you still have the opportunity and the leisure to do so.

Leave this place! Leave that part of your mind that enslaves you to this place. Learn to see the other side of reality and you will be able to merge into it and escape the coming destruction.

Choose life! But in order to do so, you must be whole-brained. This is the secret of bonding with God, the secret of His holy Name and the secret of rectification and the coming of the Messiah, may his advent be quick and soon.

This material may not be reproduced, transmitted electronically,
or otherwise copied in any format.
This material is the intellectual property
of Ariel Bar Tzadok and all copies of it
are subject to financial compensation
to the author. The author's rights will be strictly enforced.

This material m
transmitte
or otherwise c
This material is th
of Ariel Bar Tzac
are subject to fin
to the author.
will be st