Every year about this time, incredible as it may seem, I am asked to give my mystical predictions as to what awaits us in the new year. I find such requests to be rather annoying and definitely misguided. But, nevertheless, I have decided to acquiesce. I am about to present to you my 100% guaranteed accurate predictions for the coming New Year. Now, let me remind you, I am not a prophet, nor a seer nor a psychic. I have no special powers to claim. Nevertheless what I am about to reveal, you will see for yourselves, with your very own eyes, will come true 100%!

I foresee that in this coming year, there will be places that will suffer from the ravages of war. Yet, there will be other places where no such devastation will affect them.

I foresee that there will be serious financial troubles for some and yet others will experience a period of prosperity.

I foresee that some will become terribly ill while yet others will overcome many serious illnesses.

I foresee that many who seek to get married will indeed do so this year, whereas others will not be so blessed. Some will have to continue waiting.

I foresee that in this year many will indeed die. I also foresee that many new lives will come into being.

OK, are you getting the picture? Everything that I am predicting happens every year. It is the normal course of life in the world. The normal course will come about whether or not I predict it!

What will happen in the coming year should be no surprise to anyone! Yet, instead of asking what is going to happen in the world this coming year, we should be asking what will be happening to us in the coming year and is there anything that we can do to help direct the course of natural event in our favor? To this question, we respond with a resounding yes!

While we cannot necessarily influence the course of world events, we can indeed influence the course of our own lives. While we may not be able to materialize into reality all our dreams and fantasies, we can still nevertheless work hard to accomplish our realistic goals.

Remember this, God is the author of all things. He is also the author of all good and all evil. There is no real “devil” or Satan out there fighting it out with God for the ownership of your souls. No! God owns all human souls and He also owns Satan himself. There is nothing that the Accuser can do that is not previously agreed to by God. This is clear from the example set in the Book of Job. God is a tough master and He is not easily pleased. Job learned this the hard way. And so do we, each in our own way.

We can pray and pray for God's mercy and still not receive it. We can pray and pray for God's intervention in this or that matter and still not receive it. God is not bought or bribed by us and all our superficial expressions of piety. Indeed, God hates external, platonic shows that are empty of true content of sincerity and equally absent of moral, righteous behavior.

God is going to do as God is going to do. We cannot bribe the Divine, although our righteousness can influence Heaven to judge in our favor and bless us accordingly.

Here now is the big secret. Whatever you want to receive from Heaven, first give the exact same thing and more to fellow human beings in need.

Whatever we give God in turn gives. When we give, God gives. It is that simple.

So, in order to get on God's “good side” for the coming year, start the year by placing yourselves on the good side. Your behavior counts for everything, and remember, God is watching.

Instead of proclaiming to God either your sins or your righteousness, why not instead declare your intent and commitment to always do the right thing, no matter what that this and in no matter what form that may take. Doing the right thing is a decision faced every day. Just what the right thing is differs from person to person and from circumstance to circumstance. Only you can know what is right, for you, at the moment when you must decide what is right. And God is watching!

Good times and bad times, they are coming. Just which one will be coming to us is, in the end, the edict of Heaven. Nevertheless, we can still do our share to influence Heaven towards us by our acts of righteousness. When we act righteously towards our fellow human beings, God in turn acts righteously towards us.

Now, God's righteousness might not be recognizable to us as such as it is happening. Yet, as time goes by we see in hindsight that when we walk the path of righteousness then surely goodness and mercy do follow us all the days of our lives. It is righteousness that leads us to “God's house.”

So my prediction for the upcoming year also includes that there will be those of you who will get this message and act upon it. Then again, there will be those of you who will not. As a single individual, I cannot change the world, but at least I will try my best to change what I can with the insignificant little power that I have.

In this respect, as I do, so can you. Reach out and make yourselves to be a better human beings. Be bold and stand up to religious hypocrisy and superficial expressions of false piety. Be real! Be sincere! Be honest! And most of all, be righteous! Righteousness means giving! Don't be a taker! Be like God and be a giver! In this, God is pleased.

I pray that all my readers should be blessed with a happy and healthy New Year. And I pray that each of you will do what you can and what you must to transform your lives and yourselves to be the best you can be. In this God will be pleased. This is the secret key to receiving Divine blessings.

Happy New Year to you all!
