There is a time and a purpose for all things under Heaven.

There is even a time to be bullish. Now as the new Iyar moon arises, that time has come.

The new moon in Taurus is the signal. It is the sign of stubbornness, but it is also the sign of strength.

Being bullish means to be strong and it also means to be optimistic.

Bulls do not sit around and wait for fate to strike them. No, bulls run forward strongly, in full confidence of their abilities.

Taurus is time to be bullish; not to throw caution to the wind, but rather to throw fear and doubt into the wind.

Red aggravates the bull and makes him charge. Red is represents the powers of severity and harshness.

Like the mighty bull, we too should see red and be enraged. We too should charge forward with sharp horns leading the way.

We should gore the forces that seek to refine us and restrict us. Like the bull we should be strong, confident and free.

Red is the color of the evil eye. No one should ever embrace this color, not in a garment, not in a tie, and not even in a silly string around the wrist.

Red attracts the rage of the bull. Red never protect from evil, rather, it invites it. Ask the bull, he knows. Show him red and he attacks.

This month we embrace the bull, thus we too must be enraged by evil and rise up to gore it.

We must snort and stampede. We must be stubborn, incensed and strong.

Yes, when it comes to doing the right things, we must indeed be "bull-headed."

Now is the time to be like the mighty bull. The bull is one of the four faces of the Merkava, the Heavenly chariot of G-d.

Become the Bull and allow G-d to ride upon you as His mighty Chariot.

Embrace the Bull and allow yourself to become possessed by its strength, its stubbornness and most of all, by its optimism.

There is a time and purpose for all things under Heaven. Now is the time of the Bull. Now is your time.
